

Overview

Active on the Italian and international markets since 1987, Orion Italia has become the leading brand in the design and manufacture of Protection Relays for power distribution and industrial applications.

With consistent annual growth, Orion Italia has established itself as a solid name in all continents, providing solutions for utilities, industrial facilities, Original Equipment Manufacturers, consultants and contractors, leading its relays to be worldwide recognized as the ideal choice for reliability and simplicity.

The approach to international markets is part of our strategic business vision: facing new and different competitive environments has never been an obstacle for the growth of the company, representing instead a challenge for managers and product developers.

Since 1987 Orion Italia has multiplied its international relationships and business co operations with its own network of Value Added Resellers, enriching its market offer with complete support and assistance "on the field", stepping closer and closer to our customers' real needs.
